May 2024

As we move towards the last semester of the SeHeMe Project (Project Number: 2022-1-PT02-KA220-YOU-000087351), project results are progressing with the combined effort and collaboration among all partners!

First and foremost, the SeHeMe Case Studies Booklet has been finalised under the lead of the coordinator, Lusofona University – COFAC from Portugal with the contribution of all partners. After interviewing migrants and collecting their narratives, partners turned them into stories that demonstrate the successful integration to the society of the host country. As a result, 14 case studies have been collected. They describe the various motivations of young migrants to migrate, the challenges encountered in the host countries and how these were overcome. The complete SeHeMe Case Studies Booklet can be reached from the project's website here.

Secondly, all partners have been working on the Foreign Language for Media Literacy e-course under the lead of Eurospeak from Ireland and the co-lead of PADIL from Tunisia. During the monthly online progress meeting towards the end of April, the first draft of the e-course was presented to partners and feedback was provided. Necessary adjustments and improvements will be made in the following months. Before the SeHeMe training that will take place in Tunisia in October 2024, the platform will have been finalised.

In the meanwhile, the “Home and Away” online magazine is being developed under the lead of DEFOIN from Spain and the joined efforts of all partners. In March 2024, DEFOIN presented the draft version of the “Home and Away” online magazine during the monthly progress meeting on the 26th of March 2024.

In the magazine, readers, which will be mainly young migrants, will find some useful information about moving to new country. Indeed, the magazine talks about:

- Discrimination
- Culture
- Work & Integration
- Homesickness, Family & Friends
- Opportunities

The magazine also explores various stories of young migrants who have recently moved and tell their personal experiences and opinions in the new host country.

Did you know that...?

The partner meeting and project training will take place from the 30th of September to the 4th of October 2024 in Tunis, Tunisia? Yes, it will! The main activities during this time include the SeHeMe Training and TPM3 (Final Meeting). This will be an excellent opportunity for our partners to come together, share their insights, and finalise the project before its completion.
